Donna Karan (DKNY), International Fashion Designer "The Oneness Blessing gives us the opportunity to connect to that which we long for, our Higher Self, giving us the ability to experience peace and guidance and to fulfill our life's purpose, which is to share love and compassion."

Douglas Mills, United Methodist Church's Commission on Christian Unity and Religious Concerns

"The Oneness principle has allowed us each to embody our own religious tradition. They're not trying to change our religious tradition, but rather, are encouraging us to go a little deeper into our own tradition, to find new expressions within."

Sister Jayanti, European Director of the Brahma Kumaris World Spiritual University and member of the World Council of Religious Leaders

"Oneness brings you back into awareness of your spiritual identity. It gives you value for the self, love for the self, respect for the self and helps you love and value not only the lives of the other people around you, but also nature. It helps you value all forms of life. It doesn't make you change your faith in any way. That's not the intent. Rather you learn a lot about the faith of another and you go deeper into your own faith and explore what's going on in your own understanding. This experience brings greater inner strength."

Awaken To Oneness

*Discover
The Oneness Blessing
"Deeksha"*

Oneness is the natural state of human beings. It is a state in which we experience our natural unity with other people, this world, and the universe. Oneness is a state of balance, harmony, peace and contentment.

What is the Oneness Blessing?

The Oneness Blessing (also known as Deeksha) is a non-denominational transfer of Divine Energy from one person to another. The purpose of this unique blessing is to awaken in us the experience of Oneness. Sourced in Divine Intelligence, it operates appropriately in response to the needs of the individual. In a gentle and loving way, it naturally allows each of us to deepen our relationships with ourselves, with those we love, with all of humanity, and with the Divine.

A perception of being separate from those around us and our environment becomes the source of our psychological and existential suffering. The Oneness Blessing is a response to this experience of human suffering, gently freeing us from mental patterns that bind us. It is a gift of love and divine energy that supports our growth on the spiritual path, no matter what that path is.

What does it do?

The Blessing initiates internal changes that enable the senses to be free from the interference of the chattering mind. When the senses are unclouded by the mind's interpretations, a natural clarity of perception occurs, accompanied by spontaneous feelings of joy, inner calmness and connection to the Oneness in everything.

Why has the Oneness Blessing come at this time?

Our planet, and all of humanity, is currently undergoing a major evolutionary transformation. This is impacting our environment, our social structures, and our individual and collective consciousness.

The Oneness University in India (www.onenessuniversity.org) gave origin to this gift that has helped millions of people move into higher states of consciousness.

How is the Blessing given?

The Oneness Blessing is transferred by a Oneness Facilitator placing his or her hands on the crown of your head, usually for 1 or 2 minutes, or silently by intent. During this time there is a transfer of grace, or divine intelligent energy, to the recipient. Experiences during the Blessing vary, sometimes strong, sometimes subtle, sometimes delayed for days. You may experience a tingling sensation in the head, or blissful energy flowing through the body, a general sense of peace, or sometimes nothing at all. But whatever your particular experience, you can trust that the process has begun; a process that leads gradually to your own awakening.

Is Oneness a religion?

No. Oneness has no independent dogmas, teachings, codes of conduct, or practices. People of all spiritual practices enjoy the Blessing; many use it to augment and deepen their own experience of faith.
